

----- DAKOTA SHY WINERY -----

The Dakota Shy Winery estate is located at the intersection of Silverado Trail and Sage Canyon Road, a historic intersection near the city of St. Helena, in the Rutherford appellation, in the California wine country of Napa Valley.

The property consists of six beautifully landscaped acres graced by 140 olive trees, over 75 orange, lemon, and lime trees, and many other native fruit bearing trees, bushes, and vines, such as figs and kiwis. A lovely rose garden is the centerpiece of the gardens and various floral plantings around the estate. Several giant sequoias stand guard over the houses and grounds.

The stunning main house and guesthouse are decorated in a modern French Provincial style to honor the French heritage of the original owners, the Charles de Limur family.

There are four large master suites between both houses with lovely views of the grounds. Each bedroom/bath suite has full amenities, including large closets and 55-inch televisions in each bedroom. There is a full gourmet kitchen and a formal dining room that seats 12. A heated swimming pool is nestled between the main house and guesthouse, and a walkway from the pool area leads to a charming enclosed gazebo with a fireplace and outdoor kitchen.

Since 2014 this spectacular estate in the heart of wine country has been home to Dakota Shy Wines, but for over 50 years preceding Dakota Shy's acquisition of the property, the estate was the Napa home of the de Limur family, San Francisco socialites and one of the oldest and most important families in California history. Charles de Limur was a descendant of Charles Crocker, who, along with Leland Stanford, was one of the "Big Four" capitalists who built the Central Pacific Railroad and was one of the founders of modern California.

Recently, Wine Spectator magazine named Dakota Shy a "rising star in California Cabernet" and Antonio Galloni in Vinous raved, "Dakota Shy is one of the most exciting young projects I have tasted in some time."

A stay at the Dakota Shy estate includes the opportunity to enjoy tastings of Dakota Shy's remarkable wines, gourmet meals, and the serene ambience and world-class offerings of a unique property and winery, a protected and private jewel in the heart of beautiful Napa Valley.
